FAITH AND PUBLIC LIFE UPDATES

Holocaust Memorial Day

Holocaust Memorial Day took place on 27 January. Holocaust Memorial Day is the day for everyone to remember the millions of people murdered in the Holocaust, under Nazi Persecution, and in the genocides which followed in Cambodia, Rwanda, Bosnia, and Darfur. It honours the survivors of these regimes and challenges everyone to use the lessons of their experience to inform their lives today. Its theme for 2019 is 'Torn from home'. Further information is at www.hmd.org.uk/.

Faith and inter faith groups across the UK marked HMD. IFN highlighted some of these through Tweets and a series of posts on its Facebook page in the week leading up to HMD, including events in Welwyn Hatfield, Llanpumsaint, Loughborough, Rochdale and Shropshire.

The UK Commemorative Event was held in London on 27 January. The Ceremony featured personal testimonies from survivors of genocide, films, readings and music. <https://www.hmd.org.uk/news/uk-commemorative-ceremony-for-holocaust-memorial-day-2019/> An event was held in Belfast City Hall on 24 January. The event was hosted by The Executive Office in Northern Ireland in collaboration with the Holocaust Memorial Day Trust and Belfast City Council. <https://www.executiveoffice-ni.gov.uk/articles/holocaust-memorial-day> The Wales national HMD event, led by Cardiff Council, took place at Cardiff City Hall on 25 January. <https://www.hmd.org.uk/activity/wales-national-hmd-event/> Candles were lit to mark

HMD at a Scottish national event attended by school pupils from across the west of Scotland. The event in Giffnock was held together with Interfaith Scotland, the Holocaust Memorial Day Trust and the Scottish Government.

Holocaust Memorial and Learning Centre

A planning application for the UK's new Holocaust Memorial and Learning Centre in London was submitted in December by the Holocaust Memorial Foundation (HMF), which is part of the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government. Information about the HMF can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/uk-holocaust-memorial-foundation/about>.

The design for the Memorial and Learning Centre has been developed by HMF over the past year in consultation with “Holocaust and other genocide survivors, communities of a range of faiths and backgrounds, local residents, businesses and key experts from landscape design to Holocaust education”. Further information is at <https://www.gov.uk/government/news/planning-application-submitted-for-holocaust-memorial-proposed-for-next-to-parliament>.

Comments on the planning application can be submitted to Westminster Council at <https://idoxpa.westminster.gov.uk/online-applications/applicationDetails.do?keyVal=PL0CVYRP27000&activeTab=summary>.

Faith-based and inter faith emergency winter shelters

As the temperatures plummeted at the end of January across the UK, Langar Aid (a project of Khalsa Aid), Under One Roof (Leicester) and other faith-based and inter faith initiatives such as those of the Cardiff Churches and West London Synagogue have been among those offering emergency shelter.

https://england.shelter.org.uk/housing\_advice/homelessness/temporary\_housing\_if\_you\_re\_homeless/winter\_shelters

The scale of provision has been increasing. For example, the Church of England reported in December that more than 2,000 of its congregations would be running or supporting night shelters this winter as homelessness projects expand to cope with rising demand.

<https://www.churchofengland.org/more/media-centre/news/church-england-parishes-set-support-winter-shelters>

Faith based bodies also run year round programmes to offer support. For example, the Passage, a Vincentian Catholic organisation, runs London's largest voluntary sector resource centre for homeless and vulnerable people: each day helping up to 200 men and women.

Amendments to Visa arrangements for Ministers of Religion and Religious Workers

On 6 December, the Home Secretary presented to Parliament a Statement of Changes to the Immigration Rules which included amendments to the Tier 5 visa arrangements for religious workers. The changes set out took effect on 10 January.

Tier 5 visas are designed to facilitate short periods of knowledge sharing and cultural exchange for those undertaking non-pastoral roles supporting the activities of religious institutions. The changes to the Immigration Rules introduce a 'cooling off period', preventing Tier 5 Religious Worker and Tier 5 Charity Worker visa holders from returning to the UK, via these immigration routes, for 12 months after their visa expires. This approach underpins the Government's intention that these are temporary visas.

Rule changes will also see Ministers of Religion having to apply through the Tier 2 visa Minister of Religion sub-category instead of the Tier 5 Religious Workers category. Applicants will become subject to the English language requirement and have to demonstrate they speak English to an acceptable standard.

New faith and beliefs declaration for organ donation

In summer 2018, the Government published a response to its consultation into the organ donation system in England. It confirmed that under the proposed new system (commonly known as 'deemed consent' or 'opt out') everybody would be considered a potential organ donor unless they have added their details to the NHS Organ Donor Register to say that they do not wish to donate their organs or are in one of the excluded groups. It has been provisionally indicated that the system may be in place in April 2020.

A new option added to the NHS Organ Donor Register has been developed to give reassurance about how organ donation in England can go ahead in line with a person's faith or beliefs. People signing up to the NHS Organ Donor Register will now be asked an optional question about whether or not they want their faith or beliefs to be discussed with their family, or anyone else they consider appropriate, such as a faith leader.

Working with faith leaders and other organisations, NHS Blood and Transplant has developed a selection of downloadable faith and belief-specific donor cards so people can show their support for donation alongside their own faith or beliefs as well as share with family and friends. The cards can be found here: <https://www.nhsbt.nhs.uk/how-you-can-help/get-involved/download-digital-materials/faith-and-belief-donor-cards/>.

Information about organ donation and the position of individual faith and belief systems is at <https://www.organdonation.nhs.uk/about-donation/organ-donation-and-my-beliefs/>.

Cohesion and Integration

Cohesion and Integration are under discussion within a number of faith communities. The Free Churches Group recently commissioned an eighteen-month research project looking at the relationship between the Church and social cohesion in England. The project is being conducted by Theos, the UK's leading think tank on religion and society issues. <https://www.freechurches.org.uk/free-churches-commission/>

In March 2018 the Government published a Green Paper consulting on the Government's proposed Integrated Communities Strategy. The Paper set out a programme of actions to take across Government to deliver this vision at the local and national level. The Green Paper also set out a new localised approach to delivering policy. It said that this approach recognised that integration challenges are not uniform throughout the country so tailored local plans and interventions are needed to address the issues that are specific to a particular place. This local approach is being trialled initially in five Integration Areas: Blackburn with Darwen, Bradford, Peterborough, Walsall and Waltham Forest.

On 6 December, Blackburn with Darwen launched its Integration Strategy. Walsall Council launched its Strategy on 31 January. In both areas, there has been wide engagement with faith and inter faith bodies and initiatives as part of development of the plans and the Government's Faith Minister, Lord Bourne, spoke.

On 24 January a new Cohesion and Integration Network was profiled at a special reception ahead of formal launch in Manchester later in the year. <https://cohesionintegration.net/news-events/>

Independent review of Prevent

On 22 January the Government announced that there will be an independent review of the Prevent programme, which aims to stop vulnerable people from being drawn into terrorism. The announcement was made by Security Minister, Ben Wallace. The press release can be found at <https://homeofficemedia.blog.gov.uk/2019/01/22/government-announces-independent-review-of-prevent/>.

Further details of the review will be set out in due course. It will begin within 6 months of the legislation receiving Royal Assent and will report to Parliament within 18 months.

Welsh Government and RE

The Welsh Government has launched a consultation on its White Paper, 'Our National Mission: A Transformational Curriculum.' The White Paper includes a number of proposed changes to Religious Education in Wales, including on inclusion of non-religious world views, whether RE should continue to be compulsory for sixth-form students, and several changes concerning the parental right to withdraw pupils from RE and RSE. The consultation can be found at <https://beta.gov.wales/our-national-mission-transformational-curriculum> and the White Paper at <https://beta.gov.wales/sites/default/files/consultations/2019-01/consultation-document-transformational-curriculum.pdf>

The deadline for comment is 25 March.

Consultation on Out-of-school-settings providers

The Department for Education's consultation on a draft voluntary safeguarding code of practice for out-of-school settings (OOSS) providers and accompanying guidance for parents closes on 24 February. Information on the consultation is at <https://www.gov.uk/government/consultations/out-of-school-settings-voluntary-safeguarding-code-of-practice>.

An OOSS is any institution which provides tuition, training, instruction, or activities to children in England without their parents' or carers' supervision, and that is not a: school, college, 16-19 academy or provider caring for children under 8 years old, which is registered with Ofsted or a childminder agency. Some events and classes run by faith communities are classed as OOSS.

Faith Minister's national tour

The Government's Faith Minister, Parliamentary Under-Secretary of the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government, Lord Bourne, is undertaking a new national tour to celebrate the role of faith communities in the UK. The tour – 'Belief in communities: bridging divides and strengthening communities' – began with a visit to the Highway of Holiness Church in Tottenham and is being followed by monthly visits across the country. Its aim is "to shine a spotlight on the central role faith institutions play in building strong, resilient communities".

The full press release is available at <https://www.gov.uk/government/news/faith-minister-launches-national-tour-to-celebrate-the-role-of-faith-communities>.

Response of ONS to Census consultation

On 14 December, the Office for National Statistics published 'Help Shape our Future' which sets out the UK Statistics Authority's proposals, in the light of consultation, for conducting the 2021 Census in England and Wales. Within this is a section which details its planned approach to data relating to Jews and Sikhs, including its decision not to include a question on ethnicity relating to Sikhs.

Places of Welcome – A Network of Hospitality

Places of Welcome is a growing network of local community groups that aim to provide their neighbourhoods with places where all people feel safe to belong, connect and contribute. The idea was developed during Birmingham's Social Inclusion Inquiry 'Giving Hope Changing Lives' in 2012 and is now a Together Network initiative supported by Near Neighbours.

Currently, there are over 200 Places of Welcome at a variety of venues including churches, community centres, libraries, mosques, temples and other community group buildings across the UK. Each of them is slightly different from each other but open to everyone regardless of their circumstances or situation.

For further information, visit <https://www.placesofwelcome.org.uk/>.

Community seed kits

Grow Wild is inviting applications for its free wildflower seed kits, in preparation for the coming spring. The idea is to bring communities together by encouraging them to connect through nature, and by providing communities with the resources and skills to transform spaces.

Grow Wild is a national outreach programme of the Royal Botanic Gardens (Kew). The Grow Wild initiative brings communities around the UK together “to transform shared spaces with beautiful, blooming UK native wildflowers”. The kits are available to all, irrespective of prior gardening experience. The seeds may be sown at home, school, workplaces, community spaces etc. in containers, gardens or even in unloved urban spaces. ## RESOURCES AND STUDY/TRAINING

Generation Y, Spirituality and Social Change – A Collection of Stories

St Ethelburga’s Centre for Reconciliation and Peace is launching a book called ‘Generation Y, Spirituality and Social Change’, edited by Justine Huxley, on 7 March.

The book is a collection of stories and interviews with young adults. It focusses on how the younger generation are engaging with faith, spirituality and social action, reflecting both the energy and inspiration of the generation and the tremendous challenges they face. For more information, visit <https://stethelburgas.org/projects/walking-talk-faith-spirituality-next-generation/> or contact Justine Huxley at justine@stethelburgas.org.

Report on Understanding Hate Incident Patterns

On 4 December, Tell MAMA (Measuring anti-Muslim Attacks) published a report on ‘Understanding Hate Incident Patterns After the Westminster Terrorist Attack of March 2017: Building a Pattern of Community Resilience Against Hate – Reflecting on What Worked?’.

The overall aim of this report is to understand post ‘trigger event’ hate incident patterns with a specific focus on the Westminster terror attack through a detailed discourse analysis and semi-structured interviews. The report concludes with a list of recommendations that have been devised following interviews with key professionals.

The full report can be found at <https://tellmamauk.org/wp-content/uploads/resources/Tell%20MAMA%20-%20Report.pdf>.

Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse resource

On 14 January, the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse launched a television awareness campaign to help ensure victims and survivors are aware that they can come forward to the Truth Project. The Truth Project gives victims and survivors the opportunity to share their experiences in a confidential setting and make recommendations to help keep children safer in future. By sharing their experiences, victims and survivors make an important contribution to the work of the Inquiry.

The Stakeholder Engagement Toolkit, available on the Inquiry's website at <https://www.iicsa.org.uk/victims-and-survivors/stakeholder-engagement-toolkit>, offers different ways in which to support the campaign, including imagery and clips of the advert to use as social media content and also the full 60 second version of the television advert. ## Honours nominations

A number of people received Honours in this year's New Year's Honours list for services to inter faith work or community cohesion.

<https://www.facebook.com/ifnetuk/posts/2174473662603197>

The Ministry for Housing, Communities and Local Government (MHCLG) is always keen to ensure that individuals from the full breadth of society who are making a significant contribution to public life are properly recognised through the Honours system. It is particularly keen to recognise individuals who have contributed to building integrated communities and notes that nominees can come from all levels; being in a junior role is not a barrier to a nomination.

All nominations must be made on an official citation form and nominees should not be informed that they have been nominated. MHCLG is running workshops on Honours citations during February and early March. Places can be booked at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/honours-workshop-tickets-54585392378>.

Citation forms, as well as further information, can be obtained by emailing integration@communities.gsi.gov.uk.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Manchester Arena Memorial Grants Programme

The Inter Faith Youth Trust is launching a new grant programme for young people's organisations to hold inter faith events or activities in the Greater Manchester area. The deadline for grant applications is 9 February.

May 2019 will mark two years since the bombing at the Manchester Arena. The focus of the project is to highlight the good that can come from different communities working together in friendship. Grants will be awarded for projects or activities held in the Greater Manchester Area from April to June 2019. Projects must include learning by children and young people (11-25 years old) from different faiths about different faiths, through social action. Projects must include more than one faith and show how the social action will promote learning about faiths.

Grants will only be given to organisations/groups, not to individuals. Grants are for between £200 and £1,000. Applications must be on the official online application form which is available at <http://www.ifyouthtrust.org.uk>.

SUPPORT THE INTER FAITH NETWORK'S WORK TO INCREASE INTER FAITH UNDERSTANDING AND COOPERATION

We need your help to ensure that the Inter Faith Network for the UK's work to promote inter faith understanding and cooperation continues and grows, helping people of all backgrounds to live and work together with mutual respect and shared commitment to the common good.

Gifts at all levels are much valued and make a real difference. You can donate directly at www.interfaith.org.uk/donate or via PayPal.

Donations can also be made by sending a cheque to: The Inter Faith Network for the UK, 2 Grosvenor Gardens, London SW1W 0DH.

Thank you!

REMEMBERING A FAMILY MEMBER OR FRIEND

If you would like to make a gift in memory of a loved one, please get in touch by emailing remember@interfaith.org.uk or call us on 0207 730 0410.

A GIFT IN YOUR WILL

By leaving a gift in your will to the Inter Faith Network for the UK, you can leave a living inheritance to help deepen and strengthen inter faith understanding and cooperation in this country – for now and for the future. If you are thinking about making a will, the best thing to do is to get in touch with a professional will writer, such as a solicitor or advocate; they can help to ensure it is legally correct and that your wishes are met. If you have already made a will, you can still make an addition or amendment in the form of a codicil. If you would like to pledge a gift, please provide our name and address, along with our registered charity number 1068934.

Please get in touch with us if you have any queries.

You can call us on 0207 730 0410 or contact us at remember@interfaith.org.uk
